Our team is the engine that drives us forward

The passionate work of our employees, their closeness, commitment and the constant search for doing things right enable us to strengthen internal bonds and consolidate the organizational culture that represents us. That is why, as of the closing of 2022, we are able to state that, working as a team with all our employees, we left a significantly positive social footprint through the actions we carried out.

Each of them, by performing their job at the farms, administrative areas or corporate support operations, gave their best to overcome a challenging context, materialize our strategic goals producing results that become the source of pride for all of us, and harvest a sustainable future together.

Our business in 2022

The difficulties caused by the climate conditions and the high market volatility with its corresponding impact on the prices of commodities directly affected the production and, consequently, all other businesses throughout the second half of 2022. This entailed a drop regarding the goals and projections of the companies of the GreenLand group.

Therefore, in Wakate we faced high demands not only in terms of infrastructure and regional adaptation but also in preparation that came with the first harvest.

The changes the Organization is currently undergoing are the outcome of a strategic definition centered on our operating dynamic, which is a source of constant challenges.

We are Carbon Neutral

In 2022, we achieved the goal Colombia set for 2050: being carbon neutral. The country's challenge became our own because we are convinced that it is a major responsibility as a business entity to leave a positive footprint for future generations.

Based on this premise, we paved our way to the certification granted by the Colombian Institute of Technical Standards (ICONTEC) in recognition of our commitment to sustainability and to the execution of a plan centered on the reduction of emissions in Wakate.

To secure the certification, the Organization deployed environmental awareness-raising campaigns among its work teams, acquired bonds in forestry projects through the Energy Efficiency Program.

This certification is the result of our employees' commitment to sustainability as a culture and as the pathway to producing a positive footprint on the planet.

We are committed to human and social development

Through the GreenLand Foundation (FGL), which in 2022 celebrated its 35th anniversary working jointly with the neighboring communities of our operations, we deployed social programs supported on the pillars of Training for life, Housing beyond walls, Health and nutrition, Social and competitive sports, and culture.

Additionally, our Human Resources team actively promotes equal opportunities for women and the youth, improved the employability index and strengthened the generational replacement.

It is also worth highlighting that, throughout the year, we enhanced our organizational culture in an overarching manner, with an outcome that is key for us when it comes to fulfilling our corporate objectives: the cohesion of the teams.

We've come this far, and we'll continue striving to:

Generating development and looking for new business in Colombia.

Our crop investing strategy.

Focusing on overcoming the challenges of the social, political and economic contexts to achieve the expected competitiveness, generate well-being and quality of life for the people we engage, and contribute to both the regional and countrywide transformation.

Working with the institutions, public and private organizations, and the communities in order to materialize our purpose of Cultivating well-being to harvest a sustainable future.
